Stanford’s RISE Summer Internship Program for High School Students

Kaye Storm and Maiken Bruhis, Office of Science Outreach, oso.stanford.edu

Helping PIs broaden participation by diverse groups and open the STEM pipeline!
RISE prepares economically disadvantaged, first generation, and historically under-represented students to pursue SCIENCE & ENGINEERING!

7-week internships in Stanford STEM labs for 25 students annually
Work on authentic research questions with graduate students mentors
Weekly fieldtrips, lab tours & hands-on enrichment activities
Interns earn a $2,500 stipend; mentors earn $500

California’s STEM Pipeline Funnel

RISE Opens Up the STEM Pipeline

Ethnicity of RISE Interns

Type of College Attended By RISE Alumni Who Have Graduated From High School

College Majors of RISE Alumni Who Have Earned Bachelor’s Degree

Recent Funders
Agilent Technologies Foundation
American Chemical Society
Amgen Foundation
Genentech Foundation
Shortino Family Foundation
Stanford University